

Fire destroys Osceola airport hangar

Updated: 7:41 AM CDT Jul 21, 2021

OSCEOLA, Iowa —

The Osceola Fire Department says no one was injured in a fire that destroyed an airport hangar.

The fire started around 6:15pm on Tuesday. Osceola Fire Chief, Byron Jimmerson, says someone was doing welding work in the hangar before the fire started, but it's unclear if that was the cause.

Several agencies assisted with the fire.

At least two privately-owned planes were destroyed.
