FOREST CITY, Iowa- The Forest City Municipal Airport is getting a ramp addition to allow more jets to land at the airport. The current ramp is too small for the amount of business the airport is seeing according to Airport Manager, Richard Trimble. He says that each week more jets are coming in and landing here because of the rising business at Winona next door.

Trimble says that with the new extension to the ramp, more jets will be able to use the airport without confusion if the jets can safely land or not.

He also says that the community is going to reap the benefits from the new ramp.

"It is going to allow people to use the airport more easily," says Trimble. "The restaurants and motels in town will be a lot more active." "It will make the airport a lot friendlier for people to use in Forest City."

Trimble believes with business picking up already, he only sees the airport getting busier once the extension is completed.
